Currently, elderly participants in the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP) are certified at intervals not to exceed 6 months.

Effective April 1, 2004, you may certify elderly participants in the CSFP for an additional six months without reviewing the case record or collecting new eligibility data, provided that there are no women, infants or children waiting to be served.

At the end of the two consecutive six-month intervals (12 months), elderly participants will need to provide new eligibility data to be certified.
